Ike at Meeting to Quiet Apprehension Allies Sounded Out on Talks With Soviet

Diplomats Reporting Support

Sanction to Spur Missile Base Plan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
PARIS (AP) — The United States began sounding out its European allies today on how urgently they want negotiations with Russia and how rapidly they will act on President Eisenhower's nuclear missiles offer.

Well informed diplomats at the NATO summit conference reported increasing support for a compromise between the largely military U. S. plan to meet the new power of Russia in nuclear missiles, and the desires of many Europeans for a more receptive attitude toward Soviet Premier Bulganin's latest proposals for more negotiations.

Would Spur Bases

The compromise would let military planning and survey work go forward at once on setting up missile bases in Europe. It would also assure full exploration in the next few months of the new Soviet talk about east-west settlements to determine whether this is pure propaganda or seriously intended.

Secretary of State Dulles met with foreign ministers of the other 14 allied governments for almost three hours this morning to discuss Bulganin's new diplomatic offensive and assess allied reaction to it.

Talks of Peace

Bulganin, in letters to western leaders this month, talked about new east-west peace efforts, disarmament and an end to nuclear tests.

Problems tossed to the foreign ministers for discussion also included disarmament, German re-unification, the Middle East, relations between NATO and other international organizations, Africa, economic aid and closer political consultation among the allies.

The sharp difference of approach between the United States and the European allies toward Europe's missile age security appears to have taken the United States somewhat by surprise.

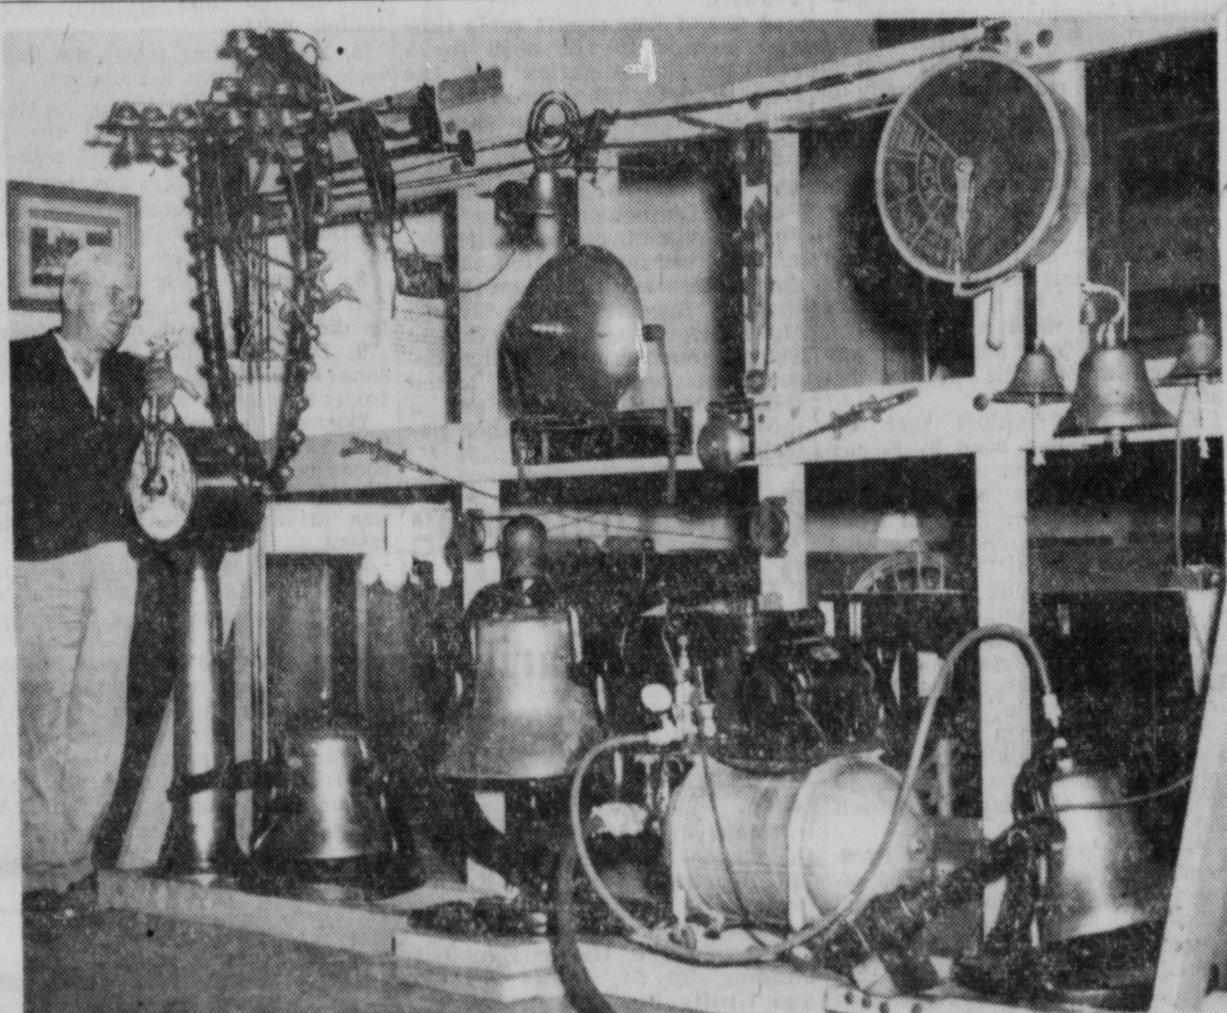

Hope for Acceptance

American officials had hoped for acceptance in principle of their plan to stockpile nuclear warheads and supply medium range missiles to NATO countries willing to accept them.

Speculation now is that the most likely settlement on this issue is a European welcome to the American offer. The summit council would instruct the supreme commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad, to study the whole problem, sound out countries on base sites and report at a NATO ministerial meeting next spring.

American and other diplomats said the western powers meanwhile could explore Russia's willingness to negotiate and find out whether any real agreements are possible.

Eisenhower and Dulles, while not ruling out the principle of negotiation, think nothing would come of east-west talks in the foreseeable future. But they were (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

RETIRED RAILROADER SHOWS COLLECTION OF BELLS—This display of bells of all types has been arranged at the Salvation Army building on North Front Street and is open for inspection by the public. The bells are from the collection of Harry J. Yale (left), a retired railroad man with New York Central, and are on display in conjunction with the Salvation Army's Christmas appeal. According to Yale, who was an engineer with the railroad for some 30-odd years, the bells represent many types from the last days of steam to the first days of the Diesel. Strap bells from the old horse-and-buggy days; the old "dinky" bell from the Rondout switch engine which shuttled coal cars; the large gong and jingle bells used on river boats; bells from old torpedo boats; engine room bells used by the U. S. Navy to flash signals from the bridge to the engine room; trolley car bells, etc. Yale served during World War I as a fireman aboard the USS San Francisco in the North Sea Barrage, mining the North Sea from Scotland to Norway. Missile Is Visible Briefly

Successful Launching Is Made of Atlas ICBM

The U. S. Air Force launched an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile today.

The huge silvery weapon roared skyward at 12:39 p. m.

The takeoff appeared at the very start to be successful. The tall, slender tube rose straight upward from its launching stand, very slowly at first.

Gradually it climbed faster as the mighty thrust of its three rocket engines began to take effect.

Ground haze and heavy thunderclouds, which rolled in at mid-morning, obscured the view.

Moments after leaving the ground the missile, trailing a thick streak of flame, disappeared into the overcast.

The missile was visible for about one minute before it climbed into the thick clouds overhead.

At about the time it disappeared, the first roar of its engines could be heard on the distant beaches.

Although the missile could not be seen thereafter, the thunder of its engines could be heard for more than four minutes.

There was no way that watchers here could determine whether the firing was entirely successful, but it unquestionably was a much better shot than the two previous Atlas test firings. In both earlier launchings the missiles wobbled and had to be destroyed.

Only a sprinkling of beach-watchers observed the fiery blastoff.

The first sign of the firing was a belch of white smoke. Ground haze was so intense that the missile itself could not be seen.

The smoke rose higher and then a dot of flame appeared. The flame rose and the missile came into view.

Then the fiery exhaust became a burning sun boring a hole into the clouds.

The launching drew attention from the entire free world, since Russia has claimed a successful firing of its own intercontinental missile.

Rhinebeck Board Proposes Sales Tax Income to Help Pay School Expenses

The Rhinebeck Central School Board last week adopted a resolution, which will be presented to a county-wide meeting of Dutchess County School Boards next month, asking that a study be made of the feasibility of schools participating in income from sales tax money in an effort to relieve the tax burden from direct taxation.

Lewis H. Winne, president of the Rhinebeck Central School board, said the resolution would ask that a study be made of the proposal to ascertain whether it might be an approach to the solution of the tax burden, particularly taxpayers with a "fixed income" who find the increasing tax burden difficult to bear.

The resolution calls attention to the possibility of schools participating in the sales tax income to the extent of 50 per cent.

The proposal has been given some thought in the past by school officials who seek to relieve taxpayers of the burden of high taxes by finding some source other than the direct property tax. Many feel that present payers are not paying their proportionate share of schools and through the participation of schools in the revenue from sales

Service Normal On Subways After Eight-Day Tieup

NEW YORK (AP) — Rush hour service on the city's vast subway system was back to normal today after an eight-day motormen's strike.

The transit workers officially called off their walkout last night after receiving promises of state Legislature help on their demands. The morning rush of work bound thousands was the first full start of facilities.

Costly to TA

The strike was estimated to have cost the Transit Authority more than two million dollars in lost fares.

More than 1,500 members of the Independent Motormen's Benevolent Assn. voted to return to work after Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Gov. Harriman and state legislative leaders promised "fair treatment."

Democratic leaders from the 37th Congressional District will meet here tonight to name their candidate.

Jury Will Hear More Witnesses Tavern Owners Discussing Issue

Several more witnesses were expected to appear before the Ulster County Grand Jury this week in connection with allegations by a Kingston minister that four Ulster County taverns served alcoholic beverages to a local youth on Friday evening, Dec. 6.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said today that some of those testifying would be teen-agers.

Also scheduled to appear before the grand jury is Ralph D. Finnigan, executive officer of the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverages Control Board. St. John said the grand jury had requested to see certain records of the ABC Board.

A partial report of the grand jury is expected in the near future.

A meeting of the Ulster County Hotel, Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association is scheduled for 2 p. m. today at The Barn.

To Come From Meeting

George Broome, president of the association, said this morning that "any comment will have to come after the meeting." He said that the association represented approximately 50 to 60 per cent of Ulster County licensees.

St. John will attend a conference of district attorneys from New York State's 62 counties in Albany on Wednesday. The conference has been called on by Gov. Harriman for the mutual exchange of ideas it is reported.

St. John said today that the grand jury would reconvene tomorrow. Scheduled for Wednesday is the playing back of a con-

Two Are Captured Less Than Hour After Bank Theft

BUFFALO (AP) — A woman motorist who followed a getaway car is credited with the tip that led to the capture of two men at gunpoint less than an hour after a bank was robbed of $24,517.

Police arrested Richard Voight, and Edmund Stone, 27, both of Buffalo at a rooming house not far from the bank yesterday.

They were charged with first-degree robbery and first-degree grand larceny in the holdup of a west side branch of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co.

Loses Trace

The woman motorist, whose identity was not learned, told police she saw two men dash from the bank and drive away in a black car. She followed about two blocks, lost it on a main avenue and returned to the bank to give a description of the car to police.

A policeman spotted the car, which was rented, parked near the rooming house and closed in after learning who it belonged to from neighbors.

Give Up Quietly

Both men gave up quietly. The money was found in a brown suit.

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N. C.

Here amid the sand dunes of the North Carolina Outer Banks 54 years ago today, man first took flight in a powered craft. Today, about six hours before ceremonies commemorating the flight, a man-made moon bearing the body of a dog passed over the sea just east of here and 500 miles in the sky, testifying to the giant steps in flight since that first 120-foot effort. The passage by Russia's Sputnik II, signifying the dawn of the space age, added a sobering thought to the festivities honoring the Wright Brothers. Orville and Wilbur, who ushered in the age with their flight here.

Today's program included ground-breaking by Conrad Wirth, director of the National Park Service, for a $250,000 museum near the site of the Wright Brothers' national monument where the flight occurred.

The brothers came here from their home in Dayton, Ohio, for the flight because of favorable weather and terrain conditions.

Applications Are Expected Soon For Police Exam

Applications for a civil service examination for appointment of local patrolmen, to be held Feb. 1, are expected to be made available next week by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, it was learned today.

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said he hoped that eligibility listing resulting of the examination will be sufficient to appoint the 15 men needed in the department.

The chief noted that the maximum salary as slated for Jan. 1, 1958 and thereafter is $5,000 a year for patrolmen, and after that date they will start at $4,640 a year. The new men gain $120 a year until they reach the $5,000.

The department, already short of men at the beginning of 1957, lost more than 10 men as a result of a police probe, which followed the arrest of two patrolmen last July on burglary charges.

Application blanks, when made available, may be obtained at the city clerk's office.

It was recently proposed that the Common Council enact legislation permitting selection of candidates from out of the city for appointment to the police force, but it was decided to determine first if the higher pay effective next year, will attract more men to police jobs.

Community College Can Be Voted In by Public

Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock today pointed out that establishment of a community college for the area can be brought about by referendum.

He said an amendment to the state education law, passed during the 1957 legislative session, provides that voters can decide at a general election whether or not to start a college.

When this year's tentative budget of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors was made up, there was no appropriation for a community college.

"You will note, Wilson said, that this law provides for the board of supervisors to formulate a plan and have it approved as provided in Section 6302 of the Education Law.

He said an amendment to the education law would remove the college proposal from the controversial issue category.

Wilson said the amendment section 6302 provides:

"Whenever a plan for a community college shall have been formulated by a county board of supervisors and approved and provided in this section, the Board of Supervisors may submit the question of the establishment of the community college contemplated by such plan to a referendum at any general election at which all the voters of the county may vote.

"It would seem to me that this might be a non-controversial solution to the community college problem. It will in no way interfere with the orderly planning for such an institution and would place the whole plan proposal before the entire county for decision.

Wouldn't Delay

"I do not believe it would delay the ultimate decision at all and might accelerate such a decision.

"Unfortunately, not too many momentous propositions affecting the county can be referred to the people for their direct verdict. I would be pleased, however, to further discuss this proposition with you and other sincerely interested parties."

The Sunday morning service will be held at 10:50 a. m. with the following special music: Anthem, "Now the Holy Child is Born" by the chancel choir; offertory duet, "Sleep Little Jesus," Virginia Bunting and Shirley Morrette.

The sermon given by Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell is entitled "Manger Theology."

The filled red Christmas stockings for the Methodist Hospital of Brooklyn will be turned in with the offering at this service.

This is a special project supported by all the Methodist churches of the New York Conference at this season of the year.

Clinton Methodist

The annual Christmas program at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be held Thursday 7 p. m. The program follows:

"All the Joys of Christmas" will be presented by the Sunday school under the direction of Miss Dorothy Smith. Narrators are James Vogel, Lewis Casey, Robert Stanford and Wayne Conrad.

"O, Blessed Savior" will be sung by the junior choir accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Dederick.

A play "First Christmas" will be offered by the entire Sunday school. "Now the Holy Child Is Born," a Normandy folk song will be sung by the chancel choir accompanied by Mrs. Irene Snell and directed by Marlin Morrette. "The Croon Carol" will be sung by the Wesleyan choir with soloists, Judy Blair, Harry Tutwiler, Jane Hyatt, accompanied by Jean Everitt with Mrs. Keron O'Neil, directing.

The cherub choir will sing "Away in the Manger" and "Christmas Bells," directed by Miss Dorothy Smith and accompanied by Mrs. Dederick.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. Albert Shultz and Mrs. Gerald Conrad, chairmen with Mabel Smith, Barbara Brayman and members of the MYF serving.

The arrival of Santa Claus will climax the evening's program.

Old Dutch Church

The Old Dutch Church School will hold its annual white gift service Sunday, Dec. 22, in Bethany Hall at 9:30 a. m. The children and young people of the Primary, Junior, Junior High, and Senior High departments will attend this service.

Each child and youth is to bring an article of food wrapped in white paper. The three, four, and five year olds will come at 11 a. m. as usual, and they will also bring white gifts. These gifts will be used to fill Christmas baskets for those in need.

The eighth grade class of the church school under the direction of Mrs. John Warren, teacher, will present the play, "Why the Chimes Rang," by Elizabeth Aphoroph Mc Fadden.

In addition to the white gift service, the following events will be taking place at the Old Dutch Church School this week:

A Christmas party for the three, four, and five year olds will be held on the balcony of Bethany Hall Thursday, Dec. 19, at 4 p. m. A Christmas party for the Primary, Junior, and Junior High departments of the church school will be held Saturday, Dec. 21, from 7:30 to 9 p. m. At the Dec. 21 party there will be caroling, the Christmas story, a play by the Junior Christian Endeavor, Almost an Angel, by Robert C. Mitchell, and magic acts by Fred Van Deusen. James Little will be the master of ceremonies.

IN MEMORIAM—This towering cross has topped the summit of Observation Hill in Antarctica for the past 45 years, a stark monument to the last men to stand at the South Pole before the current International Geophysical Year explorations. Erected in 1912, it bears the names of Britain's Capt. Robert Falcon Scott and the four men of his party who reached the pole in January of that year, only to find that Roald Amundsen of Norway had achieved the goal before them. Scott and his men perished on the return journey. The cross is inscribed, "To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

BOYS WITH ROCKETS

Jimmy is a lad of 10 years who has been bitten hard by the scientific bug. The rather pleasant disease resulting from this bite has led to a variety of symptoms that will be recognized by the parents of many a small boy.

Jimmy peers through a microscope. Jimmy has a taste for original—and generally odorous—chemical experiments. Jimmy, above all else, reads everything he can lay hands on that pertains to planes, rockets and space travel. Especially to rockets!

Jimmy's kind are legion in these United States. In them lies our hope of maintaining scientific supremacy in the future. That is one excellent reason why Jimmy and his fellow boy scientists should be kept in one piece. And that, in turn, is why Jimmy's fascination with rockets should be guided and held in check.

All over the United States, embryo scientists—plus not a few youngsters who merely enjoy things that burn with a loud bang—are becoming interested in sending up rockets. This is in line with the old American tradition of trying things and fooling around with gadgets until they work. The only trouble is that rockets are gadgets which blow up about as often as they go up.

Let us not labor the point, but make it clearly and simply: Rockets are dangerous toys. Small boys, and even bigger boys, should not be allowed to fool around with them except under skilled supervision. Future scientists won't be any good to the future unless they get there.

John Kasper, the notorious agitator for segregation, carried a copy of "Mein Kampf" when he left to start a federal prison term. If he's going to write a book in jail, we hope he'll model it on something less dull—and a lot shorter.

THE ICE GAVE WAY

The story is a familiar one, but nonetheless heartbreaking each time it is told: Two little boys ventured out onto the ice, tossing broken chunks of it into open water beyond. A third boy, more cautious than his playmates, remained on shore and called to them, "Come on back, now." Even as he spoke, the ice gave way and the two boys plunged into the black water.

The next day, the boy who had stayed ashore sat with bowed head in his second grade classroom. Other members of his class sat about him, hands clasped, heads bowed. There were two empty desks in that classroom. It was for the boys who had occupied those desks the day before that the class was praying.

It is painful to speak of these things, painful to think about them. But think about them, and speak of them, we must. Only so can we hope to spread the old words of caution that may prevent another such tragedy.

According to the legend Newton was sitting under an apple tree when an apple hit him on the head, inspiring him to formulate his theory on gravity. All most of us would get out of such an accident would be a lump.

THE COST FACTOR

Practically everyone, informed and otherwise, has been sounding off about education—more education, better education, faster education, education to produce post-Sputnik scientific wonders. Some of what has been said is thoughtful and wise; some of it has been expounded without considering the hard facts.

A couple of these hard facts, especially with reference to higher education, are as follows. America's already tremendous college-going population continues to increase. To meet the rising tide of students, both private and public institutions will need greatly increased financial support.

This is not mentioned by way of throwing cold water on the clamor for more, bet-

These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

TRAVEL ANYWHERE

Article 13 of the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights states:

"1. Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and residence within the borders of each state."

"2. Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country."

To some, the theory runs that according to this provision, the Government of the United States is bound by this clause in an alien document to abnegate its authority over its own passports. If this view is correct, why is it not possible to find clauses in all sorts of United Nations documents which vitiate the Constitution of the United States and acts of Congress?

It would be interesting to know how many of the 82 governments in the United Nations have given up their authority over their passports to satisfy this clause of the United Nations Declaration. Will, for instance, Soviet Russia permit Alexander Kerensky to enter and leave Russian territory without molestation? Will Poland permit General Bor to enter and leave Poland without molestation?

The proposition seems, on the face of it, to be absurd because governments usually take their passports seriously and do not permit them to be used by everyone anywhere or under any circumstances. If the usage of the passport becomes so uncontrolled, what is the particular value of such a document? Actually, in many places, passports need to be closely guarded because they are stolen, so great is their value. Why is it that only in the United States the passport is being brought into ill-repute, to be reduced to a mere card of identification?

The passport is a symptom of a degenerating authority in our society. Everybody talks about the Bill of Rights but who wants to turn these ten amendments of the Constitution into an instrument of anarchy? The Bill of Rights is an orderly statement of limitations upon government; it is not designed to make government lawless and life disorderly. It could not have been intended that confusion should take the place of orderly process or the Constitution would not have been written at all. For what is the need of a Constitution for all the people if each citizen is to decide for himself what he is to do about those matters which must be done in common co-operation?

The passport is an evidence of allegiance. It used to be a document of protection in those days when governments respected each other as human beings respected each other's rights, privileges and obligations. Today, the passport is largely a means of identification. We no longer send gunboats and Marines to defend the validity of our passports; we even permit backward nations like Saudi Arabia to dictate to us the kinds of Americans who may carry an American passport to an American-leased airport.

Be that as it may, the United States has not yet fallen that low that the passport means nothing at all and those who refuse to abide by rules and regulations really place the Government of the United States in a humiliating position.

One of the first questions that Congress should tackle when it reassembles is a closer and nearer definition of the passport, specifying precisely who is entitled to use an American passport and how it is to be decided who is not to use a passport. The legislation ought to be sufficiently clear that no Supreme Court Justice with a penchant for writing his own law will find grounds for complaining a nuisance.

It is a manifestation of the times that so many institutions and activities that have been taken for granted for centuries suddenly become new issues over which new interpretations are demanded. This is not because the institutions are no longer useful; rather it is that the times are awry and men seek to do what they should not do, like those little boys and girls from the United States who went to Red China from Soviet Russia in violation of their passports. Thus far, there is no evidence that anything constructive has come from their recalcitrance. Perhaps those who are still in Red China are having a good time; they would do better if they had gone back to school where they belonged. The bravado of youth is often attractive, but it can be costly.

★ Dr. Jordan Says ★
Reliable Cure for Psoriasis
Still Sought by Researchers

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Many correspondents write to me asking for a discussion of the skin disease called psoriasis.

Numerous studies of this curious disorder have been made in the medical journals but it must be admitted that as yet the exact cause of psoriasis is not known and there is so far no sure cure. However, interest in its study has been speeded up by the formation of the Psoriasis Research Foundation at 44 Page Street, San Francisco, Calif.

Although the cause is not known, there are some suggestive clues. Sometimes, for example, several members of the same family can be afflicted, though it has not yet been traced as a definite hereditary disorder. It is also known that psoriasis is often associated with certain kinds of arthritis with considerable frequency, though why this should occur is still obscure.

PSORIASIS, because of its peculiar appearance, is a source of a good deal of worry to those who have it. But although one physician has written me concerning serious complications from the disease, it is generally considered relatively harmless so far as life and general health are concerned.

When psoriasis starts suddenly there is likely to be severe itching. In the more chronic cases (which are more frequent) there is little or no itching.

Those parts of the skin which have been involved for a long time generally become covered with a thick scale. When the scale is scraped off, tiny bleeding spots appear underneath.

MANY TREATMENTS are being used for psoriasis. Most of them produce good results the first time they are tried, but too often the improvement turns out to be only temporary and when it is repeated the good results that happened the first time fail to materialize.

The remedies most often used by skin specialists for psoriasis include ointments containing coal tar, exposure to ultraviolet rays (psoriasis is usually better in the summer) and X-rays.

Almost every year, too, there is a report of some new and "better" treatment, but as yet there is none which has stood up and really does the job for everybody without any failures.

Some day the right treatment will come, but until it does, psoriasis will be discouraging to treat for patient and doctor alike. In the meantime most victims of psoriasis will encounter periods both of improvement and worsening.

ter, faster education. It is mentioned to underscore one key fact: More, better education is going to cost a lot more money than we have been spending. That is, no reason to abandon the idea. But we must face reality.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Every segment of the U. S. transportation industry is clamoring for relief, along these lines:

Airline executives, their trade association, their bankers and their backers are now claiming that unless the commercial air carriers are granted a rate increase, they will go bankrupt.

They will probably get their rate increase, all right. But a strong suspicion has been built up here that better financial management would solve many of their problems.

A Senate transportation subcommittee on transportation under Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) will open an investigation in mid-January. But it seems interested only in the plight of the railroads. And that takes in only one part of America's vast transport system today.

BUT THIS MOVE is now being resisted by independent transportation experts in Washington, in a Hoover commission type of independent investigation into all kinds of commercial carriers—air, water, rail and highway.

This commission should be given plenty of time—three years or so—and plenty of money to do a thorough job which has never been done, and which Congress can't do.

Its goal could be to design a regulatory system that would gear the country's transport services to future needs instead of past performances.

ONE OF THE MANY commissions set up by the Eisenhower administration when it came to town in 1953 was a transportation study group under Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

The Weeks commission got bogged down in land surface transportation problems. It was principally concerned with competition between railroads and trucks. Its 1954 report became a dead letter and its recommendations were never acted upon.

The result is that today every part of the transportation industry is clamoring for relief, along railroads, which are always complaining. Signs of the times are the drop in railroad security prices and profits. The proposed Pennsylvania-New York Central merger and B. & O.'s dropping of Baltimore-New York passenger service are said to be indicative of more of the same to come.

Some railroad economists now feel that part of the trouble stems from trying to regulate railroads as though they were all alike. They aren't. Long Island hauls 90 per cent commuters. New Haven's business is 60 per cent passenger traffic. Pocahontas carries 90 per cent coal.

In the light of many facts like these, it is considered no longer possible to talk about the problem of "the" railroads, or the eastern, southern or western roads. To get at their economic difficulties, they should be reclassified by function.

But this proposal meets opposition from most railroad executives—particularly those who oppose any new idea in transportation.

Will Mark 100th Year

At a recent meeting in the central firehouse, Middletown, preliminary plans for the observance of the Middletown Fire Department 100th anniversary were discussed.

A tentative three point program was outlined for the observance to be held during the week of August 24-29, 1959. Plans call for a Memorial service, a dance and a parade to highlight the anniversary. A steering committee composed of 36 members of the department representing the city's seven fire companies, the Board of Engineers and the Paid Firemen's Association elected William W. Weale general chairman of the anniversary committee.

Dog Summons Help
For Man in Water

EATON (PA) — A 72-year-old man fell through the ice of Bradley Brook reservoir yesterday and clung for two hours to the ice until a dog summoned help.

The man, Walter Wescott of nearby Hatch Lake, suffered exposure but was reported in good condition at Hamilton Community Hospital.

State police said Wescott, who was going ice fishing, was about 100 feet from shore when the ice gave way.

Wescott told troopers that he pulled himself up onto the ice but that it broke beneath him again.

His plight was discovered by George Vogel, who lives near the reservoir. Vogel said his dog pulled on his trousers and insisted that he walk to the water.

Neighbors, firemen and state police pulled the man from the water with planks and ropes.

The reservoir is about five miles south of this Madison County village.

Democratic Mayors
Ghosts of Harriman

ALBANY (PA) — Gov. Harriman and 23 Democrats who will hold office as mayors in New York State next year had lunch together yesterday in the executive section.

Discussion of "legislative and administrative matters of mutual concern" was held, Harriman said.

Seven mayors and mayors-elect invited to the conference were unable to attend. They included New York's Robert F. Wagner, busy with the subway strike.

The others who declined were the Democratic mayors or mayors-elect of Cohoes, Glen Cove, Glens Falls, Newburgh, Auburn and Salamanca.

Harriman did not invite mayors who leave office at the end of this year.

Among those attending was Mayor-elect Vincent A. Corsall of Oswego, who won election on the Liberal Party ticket. Harriman's office said Corsall was a Democrat and had declared himself as such.

EMOTIONS AND VALUES

At 3:30 p. m. the other day, a popular stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange closed at $67 a share. It was weak all day with investors dumping 15,000 shares of it. The closing price was off $6 a share from the previous day and bids were scarce during the 5½ hours of trading.

The very next morning an avalanche of buying orders in the same stock descended upon the Stock Exchange. The volume of purchase orders was so great that the officials of the Exchange had to delay the opening of trading in the shares. Finally, around eleven o'clock 15,000 shares opened at $73 ½ up $6 ½ from the previous close.

Thirty-six thousand shares were purchased that day at advancing prices. The stock closed at $73 ½ up $6 ½ within 24 hours. This day the buying had been enthusiastic and strong; the day before the selling had been fearful.

Segments of the national economy are just like that. One never knows from day to day what millions of people will do with their money.

Retail trade is subject to the same caprices. For example, a lucky buyer of 100 shares of this stock at $67 a share may be so exhilarated when he sees his stock up $6 ½ a share that he and his family will go out and put on a Christmas buying spree of unprecedented proportions.

Don't Get Caught Up

I write of these things this week in order to point up to millions of investors how ill advised it is to get caught up in such mass psychology selling and buying. The New York Stock Exchange is the world's leading emporium. Member firms have offices in principal cities everywhere. Thousands of people gather there every trading day of the year to watch the ticker tape which records all transactions.

Far too much of the time, tumbling prices cause consternation and rising prices boundless optimism. Price changes seldom reflect accurately economic changes. President Eisenhower has a sudden illness and emotional selling erases billions of dollars of quoted values on the Stock Exchange. And the very next morning, the public realizing pessimism has been overdone, turns optimistic again.

Nervous investors should school themselves to take rapid social, economic and political changes in stride. Don't sell on 5,000,000-share days on the New York Stock Exchange when prices are tumbling down. And then, if one must sell, wait for a day when everything seems right in the economic world and buyers are enthusiastically bidding up the prices of shares.

Not Temperamentally Fitted

Thousands of people simply are not temperamentally fitted to hold shares. Rapid price changes affect their nervous and circulatory systems. These are the persons who should leave their money in savings banks where dollar quotations only change when accrued interest has been added to their accounts.

In America we do not begin to have enough trained personnel to handle adequately the investment and speculative propensities of people. Two hundred thousand physicians and surgeons attend 170,000,000 persons here. There could be and should be a close relationship of the management of health and wealth.

Today in the United States there is great need of 25,000 well-trained free-lance investment counselors to help millions of puzzled investors and speculators.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market slumped again today as gloomy reports and forecasts continued to dampen Wall Street.

Leading issues were down from fractions to a point or more generally, with some declines wider.

Steels and motors took the brunt of the selling which was moderate except for a heavy burst at the opening when the ticker tape lagged behind transactions for three minutes.

Truck Recovered Used by Thieves To Move Articles

The truck, used in the theft of more than $2,500 in merchandise from a Port Ewen television dealer last Thursday night has been found in New York City.

The truck is owned by the Jay Bee Rental Service in Port Ewen, operated by P. Joseph Beichert.

It was stolen from the premises of G.I. Joe's Express, Inc., Port Ewen, to whom Beichert had chartered it, some time between 7 and 11 p. m. last Thursday.

The truck was reported to have been used to remove merchandise from Light's Radio and Television Store, owned and operated by Floyd Light of Port Ewen.

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Sgt. Linn Baker of the Highland BCI, who investigated, said that items included:

Several table model television sets; one portable TV set; several hi-fi sets; several record players and 20 or more small portable clock and table model radios.

Police authorities said entry was gained by a side door which had been pried open. Tire marks in the snow near the door indicated that the merchandise had been hauled away in a truck.

The truck was found by patrolmen of the 30th Precinct, New York City Police Department, at 130th Street and 12th Avenue.

The mileage meter showed that the vehicle had been driven 103 miles.

Monoxide Gas Causes Pine Bush Couple's Death

A verdict of accidental death due to carbon monoxide poisoning was issued in the death of a Pine Bush executive and his wife, who were found dead in their home Monday.

Police said Morris S. Malek, 64, manager of Master Cravat Company, Pine Bush and his wife, Anna, 62, were found dead in the living room of their small home on Griesing Street by two other employees of the manufacturing plant.

Coroner Walton Trumper of Greenwood Lake issued the verdict.

John Mack and Arthur R. Glazer told state police that they checked to find out why Malek had not reported to work and when they looked in the windows they saw the two bodies. They broke in and called the police.

Police said the room indicated that one or both had been ill. A pan was alongside Mrs. Malek who was on a couch and a bottle of bicarbonate pills was near Malek seated in a chair.

Investigators theorized that leaking monoxide gas had made the couple ill. Police found a rust hole in the exhaust pipe leading from a gas stove in the room. Friends told police that the Maleks had planned to build a new chimney. Cement blocks for the work were found in the yard.

Cpl. John Monahan of Middlesex state police and Trooper James Finch of Montgomery barracks investigated the mishap.

On the Democratic side Francis P. Hogan of Hornell, an assistant state labor commissioner, says he expects to be the party's candidate.

Gov. Harriman has ordered a special election Jan. 14 in the district, which comprises Broome, Tioga, Chemung and Steuben counties. The term runs until Dec. 31, 1958.

Cole a Republican, resigned to take the job of director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Support Is Surprise

Tioga County split its two votes yesterday, spokesmen said. Earl Payne of Waverly backed Calkins and Howard Robeson of Owego backed Ingalls.

Observers said Payne's support for Calkins was something of a surprise among the politicians.

Ingalls had the support of Broome County's four delegates and Calkins had the two delegates each from Steuben and Chemung counties.

Republican Chairman Myron Albright of Tioga County said a poll of the 66 committee men in the county yesterday showed 35 for Ingalls, 17 for Calkins and 14 not reached. He said he gave the results to the committee.

Ingalls said last night: "I think it was good the delegates decided to quit tonight and face the problem fresh tomorrow."

Calkins said: "As long as I have five votes I'm in business. I expected a determination before this point, and I think everyone else did, too."

Cementon Sports Club Sets Annual Meeting

SAUGERTIES — The annual meeting and election of officers of the Cementon Sportsmen's Association will be held Tuesday, Jan. 14 at St. Mary's Church Hall, Cementon.

Plans for the annual banquet in late January or early February will be discussed.

The 1957 banquet committee includes Patrick Nezich, president; Anthony Cotich, Salvatore Giordano and Anthony Pavlovich.

The torch of the statue of Liberty goes on at the hour of official sunset and goes off at the hour of official sunrise.

Jury Will Hear

controversial tape recording of a panel discussion on the serving of alcoholic beverages to minors.

The discussion was taped by Radio Station WSKN in connection with its series entitled "Forensic."

Participating in the discussion were Craig Spence, 17, to whom alcoholic beverages were allegedly served in four Ulster County taverns, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, minister of the Old Dutch Church, Robert Teetsel, proprietor of the Barn, and Harry Howard, a member of the local ABC Board.

Advised Cancellation

The tape was scheduled to be broadcast over the air Sunday, Dec. 8, but the broadcast was canceled on advice of legal counsel for the station. Attorney Frank Campochiaro said the broadcast might result in a suit against the station for slander.

The present grand jury investigation, which opened Dec. 9, was the direct result of allegations by the Rev. Mr. Oudemool that young Spence had been served alcoholic beverages in his presence.

He said he accompanied Spence as a witness in order to test widespread rumors that minors (persons under 18) could obtain alcoholic beverages in almost any bar in the county.

Drank At Friend's Home

A 16-year-old Kingston youth was given a 30-day suspended sentence in city court yesterday after he pleaded guilty to public intoxication. The boy did not obtain the liquor from a local bar, however. He told the court that he had taken several "whiskeys" at the home of a friend and was on his way home when he was arrested.

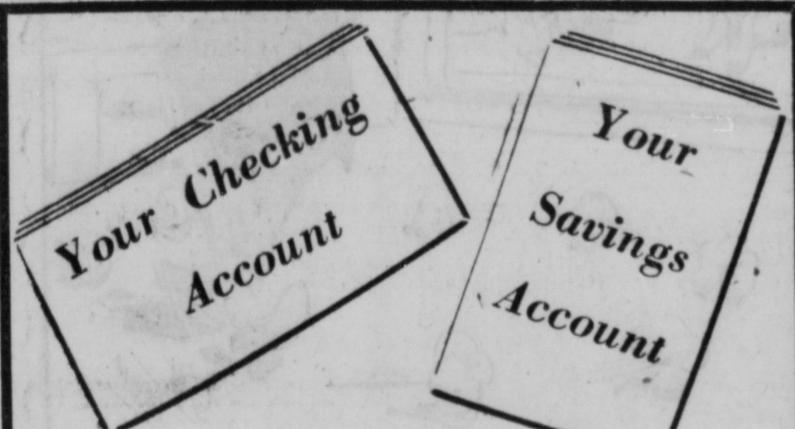

He was placed on probation for six months and ordered to confer with his minister.

A number of witnesses, including the Rev. Mr. Oudemool and young Spence, have testified before the grand jury since the hearings began.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
THE FIRST JOE

The first "must" for Congress when it reconvenes in January, is to name those who will have the power to decide when the President—any President—is unable "to discharge the Powers and Duties of said Office" until "the Disability be removed."

The Constitution does not state who shall decide when a disability exists. The President, himself, might do so. But suppose he is unable to speak, sign his name, or grasp the importance of pressing events?

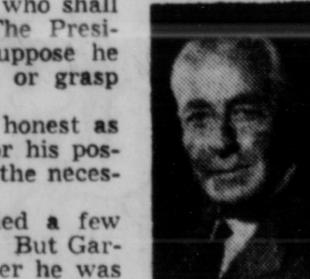

No President has ever been as honest as Mr. Eisenhower about his health, or his possible incapacity. He has asked for the necessary legislation.

Both Lincoln and McKinley died a few hours after they were assassinated. But Garfield lived nearly three months after he was shot by Guiteau. Woodrow Wilson was an almost helpless invalid during the last year and a half of his term unable to be the leader of his policies.

But in those days, no foreign foe could strike across the ocean in a few hours or minutes. Today, a Vice President may be almost instantly required to give orders for the defense of the nation that will be obeyed at once and without question.

We, all, pray that the President will live out his term in reasonably good health. But if not, no one more than he would wish his country to be safe.

Neighbor, there would be no time to debate this matter after the first bomb!

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—State and local governments are fast narrowing the still wide gap today between their spending and that of the federal government.

The expected increase next year in this outpouring of money into the economy is counted upon to help offset the decline in industry.

36 Billion Expenditure

More than 36 billion dollars will be spent next year for goods and services by the 48 states and their many subdivisions. That will absorb some eight per cent of the nation's total output. The federal government is expected to spend about 73 billion dollars as a further assist.

Altogether it's quite a cushion the taxpayers are putting under the economy, if that's any consolation to them.

Spending Doubled

Spending by the state and local governments has doubled since 1949 and is 4½ times the prewar total.

The Northern Trust Co. of Chicago notes in its December comment on business: "The popular demand for more or better public services, to all appearances, continues undiminished. The rapidly rising school-age population, the continued expansion in housing, the growth in numbers of cars on the road, and the gradual spread of substandard metropolitan neighborhood—all point to further increases in demands on state-local resources."

Shoulder Larger Share

These governments are also shouldering a larger share of public assistance programs. The Tax Foundation, a research organization, says that in fiscal 1956 they spent three times what it was 10 years ago.

As interest charges have been rising in the last two years, the cost of carrying this state and local debt has added another twist to the rock on which the taxpayer finds himself.

The Northern Trust notes: "To date, governments have found the necessary revenues and, despite frequently heard complaints about property and other tax bills, voters have continued to approve the vast majority of new bond issues submitted to them."

DAY OF RECKONING

Sure, I got a large charge out of Christmas

Tis a wonderful season I know, thing from the sublime to the ridiculous was asked. Her ready repertoire was shown in the following:

Gentleman: "Can you feel colors?"

Helen Keller: "Yes—I can feel

blue."

A fat man bumped into a rather lean one.

Fat Man (belligerently) —

From the looks of you there must have been a famine.

Lean One — And from the looks of you, you're the guy who caused it.

The feath'ry fingers of the snow tap lightly on the window pane. We gather by the fireplace glow and dream of spring time's soft, warm rain. The weatherman predicts a freeze.

We have a feeling he is right.

For every now and then a freeze will punctuate the snowbound night. Pa's nose is redder than a beet. Ma hands him kerchiefs by the score. Poor Junior toasts his restless heat: No dance tonight—and he is sore! Belinda

Ann is at the phone, trying to get her girl friend, Sue. She turns at last and, with a groan, says, "Line's down, folks. I can't get through." Somebody says:

"The TV set." Pa turns it on.

Alas, alack! The only station we can get is full of swirls of white and black. No phone, no TV, and no car. In such a blizzard, who would roam? Ma smiles and says, "Well, here we are. For once, the family's all at home."

Newkirk Advises Mailing Parcels At "Off" Hours

One good way to eliminate trouble in making your Christmas mailings this year, postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk advised residents of Kingston today, is to go to parcel post windows in "off" hours.

Many people mailing Christmas parcels will arrive at the post office at the rush hours in the early morning, around lunch time, and near the closing hours in the late afternoon.

Often these are people, such as housewives, who could very easily come to the parcel post

What Judges, Lawyers ThinkInclination Is to Shun Jury Duty, Survey Shows*CC Group Will Study Traffic Regulations

A study of traffic regulations will be made by the traffic and Transportation Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The decision was made at a meeting Monday night at which chairman Alex Embree Jr. presided.

In releasing this statement today, Embree said that the committee believes there are many minor changes in traffic regulations which would facilitate traffic movement.

"We will continue, in fact intensify, our efforts to obtain needed area highway and arterial route improvements," Embree said, "but our committee believes many minor changes should be made in regulations to help traffic move more freely and safely."

Members of the Chamber's Traffic and Transportation committee will list changes or improvements in traffic regulations which they believe should be made. The public is invited to make any suggestions by writing or calling the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. All suggestions will be coordinated and presented to officials in charge.

Ossining Wins

Ossining High School with a record of 5-1 received first place with a low point score of 48. Jeffersonville also 5-1 finished second with a low score of 61.

A costly defeat by Catskill left the Sawyers with a record of 4-2 and a low score of 52. Hudson was fourth. Other schools participating in the order of their finish were: Kingston, Kerhonkson, Poughkeepsie, Catskill, Columbia, Vincentian and Wappingers Falls.

Other students who participated in non-trophy divisions were Dorette Stadler, Michael Breen, Frieda Sandner, Tage Haun, Frank Gallietta, David Sheeder, Nancy Misasi, Carolyn Halpert, Nancy Quackenbush, Paul Kruger, Charlotte Bell, Stanley Newkirk, Malcolm Popowicz, Gail Kellogg, Arlene Krom, Lynda Wrolsen, Albert Giannotti, Delores Benson, Rosemary Mooney, Michael Goff, Wayne Abbott, and Pamela La Plante.

Lowell Mayone, Anthony Francello and Paul Wengert acted as judges together with Joan Cotich of last year's varsity squad. Malcolm A. Bump of the faculty accompanied the group.

At Mohawk Congress

Four Saugerties student congressmen accompanied Robert Emery of the faculty Saturday to the initial Mohawk Valley Student Congress at Utica.

Nancy Overbagh, Carolyn Roeser, Susan Staples and Janet Nickerson offered their experience to Anthony Schepsis of Utica Free Academy in setting up the first upstate area congress since World War 2.

All four girls received the maximum number of points (10) permitted under non-NFL sanctioned congresses of a unicameral.

Probers Call Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee resumed today its hearings on alleged labor terrorism in Tennessee, inviting a Chattanooga criminal court judge to hear the testimony.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said in advance that the committee has sent an invitation to Judge Raulston Schofield in Chattanooga, but has not yet received a reply.

KINGSTON SAVINGS BANK STARTS YULE CLUB — Mrs. Lula Countryman of 93 Johnson Avenue receives Christmas Club book from Holt N. Winfield, president of the Kingston Savings Bank, as she makes first deposit in the Christmas Club which was opened at the bank Monday. Next fall members of the Kingston Savings Bank Christmas Club will receive club checks. For the first time the bank has opened a Christmas Club department for the convenience of its customers. Blood Is Only Yule Request of Bay State Youth

BOSTON (AP) — Eight-year-old Richard Cahalane of Belmont is asking for a rather unique Christmas gift this year.

All he wants are 40 pints of blood so he can walk and run like his playmates.

Richard has a deformed foot which requires surgery to correct, but he also is afflicted with hemophilia. He suffers profuse bleeding, even from the slightest wound.

Richard has been hospitalized at least five times a year and already has had 150 transfusions after minor accidents.

Dr. Thomas Broderick, chief orthopedic surgeon at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, will operate as soon as the blood is available. Thanks to modern medical science, surgery now can be performed on hemophiliacs.

It is estimated that of the 40 pints necessary, 20 of them must be of the fairly rare type O negative. Donors are needed because less than six per cent of the population has this type of blood.

Hospitals aren't new to Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cahalane.

Richard's three younger brothers, John 6, Robert 5, and David 2, also are hemophiliacs.

"It's a big job, but it's just a case of adjusting to it," Mrs. Cahalane says. "We let the boys go out like other youngsters, but I admit I have to do quite a bit of quiet watching from behind the curtains."

Health Chief Is Unhurt in Crash

A two-car collision on Route 9W in Port Ewen resulted in heavy damage to the passenger cars involved but no injuries to their drivers, according to a report in the Ulster county sheriff's office.

Involved in the collision were a 1950 sedan owned and operated by Mrs. Josephine S. Jones of 182 South Wall Street, Kingston, and a 1957 sedan operated by Dr. Dudley S. Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner.

Recession Seen In 1958 by U. S. CC Spokesman

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U. S. Chamber of Commerce spokesman predicts a 1958 business recession "at least as severe as in 1949 and 1954," with unemployment possibly topping five million.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, chamber research director, suggested recovery may come "before 1958 closes," and predicted that in any serious continuing contraction "a demand for a tax cut might be greater."

Schmidt added that "basic forces making for economic expansion in the long run are as strong as ever and are likely to help prevent any major collapse."

Spokesmen for 14 industries participated with Schmidt in a business outlook symposium. Thought opinions were divided, the group in general was more optimistic than the chamber spokesman.

Slight upturns were forecast for auto sales, homebuilding, electronics, chemicals, department store and food sales, commercial airlines and consumer credit.

Downtrends, at least in the next six months, were predicted for most household appliances and consumer durables, furniture and home furnishings, railroads and foreign trade. Basic steel was seen as likely to lag in the first six months, but to end 1958 about even with 1957.

Schmidt said a chamber survey of trade associations showed that only 16 per cent of them believe general business conditions will be better in first-half 1958 than in first-half 1957. Forty per cent think second-half 1958 will be better than second-half 1957, he said.

Although employment has held up remarkably well, the economist said, joblessness has been increasing and is likely to reach four to five million "and possibly more."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received my first Christmas card today from Mrs. Engene Craft of 114 St. James Street.

In it was enclosed a photo of Dr. Howard B. Grose and the following note: "Your article in tonight's Freeman refers to the Rev. Howard Grose of Poughkeepsie. I have had this photo of him for many years. He was pastor of our church in Poughkeepsie, which is the First Baptist on Mill Street. It was in that church, that he formed the first Christian Endeavor Society in New York State, well over 60 years ago. My father helped him, and we were all there at the meeting. Today there are very few surviving members. My two sisters, a cousin and two friends as well as myself are all that are living as far as I know. Mr. Grose was a wonderful man and we loved him."

Although receiving the enclosed photo which I am now returning to Mrs. Craft was a surprise to me, I felt when I mentioned the Rev. Dr. Howard B. Grose of Poughkeepsie that someone around here would remember him. Of course at the time, I did not know that Dr. Grose was the organizer of the Christian Endeavor Society of New York State.

The response to the names of streets of Kingston mentioned by Harry Rigby Jr. are pouring in. Those who have any information on why streets were so named please contact Mr. Rigby directly as he is making a study of it and then relays the information to this column.

Amsterdam Job Program Cited By State Leader

AMSTERDAM (P) — Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson today cited Amsterdam's industrial development program for helping change the city from a distress area to "one of economic normalcy."

Dickinson, speaking at an industrial development conference luncheon, said 16 new industries had come to the city in slightly more than a year as a result of the program and the efforts of the Amsterdam Chamber of Commerce, Grossman Industrial Properties Inc. and the State Commerce Department.

In a prepared speech, he noted that when the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co. moved out in 1955 it threw approximately 2,200 persons on the unemployment rolls.

"It is gratifying to note that the 16 new industries have already created 1,000 jobs and have increased the city's annual payroll by about $3,708,000. This is in addition to increased employment in existing firms," Dickinson said.

He said also that Amsterdam, whose economy had been dominated by the carpet industry, was becoming diversified, with a total of 61 manufacturing plants.

The commissioner indicated that Amsterdam's successful program was partly due to its central location, its fund of skilled labor and its adult education program.

One of the education program's novel accomplishments, Dickinson said, was the setting up of specific training courses for industries that were planning to locate in the community.

There are 26 Federal dams built between Minneapolis and St. Louis for flood control.

St. James Women Will Hear Rare Christmas Music

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of St. James Church, Fair and Pearl Streets will hear a program of unusual interest Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Junior Room at the Church.

Mrs. Kenneth N. Alexander will present a resume of the history of religious festival music beginning with the pre-Christian era down to the present.

Western Europe became acquainted with traditional festival music to the nativity during the 16th century when the "carol" became sacred music, the basis of much modern Christmas music.

The Woman's Society will hear "Magnificat in D Major" by J. S. Bach, a Christmas classic from the 18th Century. Also Mrs. Ralph D. Harper, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce, will present "Twelve Days of Christmas," traditional English; "Deck the Halls," old Welsh; "Young Jesus Sweet," 16th century; and Warner Hawkins' contemporary work, "The Christ Child."

The group will hear Mrs. T. W. Reynolds present a review of the study book, "The Cross and Crisis in Japan" at 11:45, and have luncheon at 12:30 noon.

25 New Security Offices Planned

WASHINGTON (P) — The Social Security Administration said today it will open 25 new district offices during the first three months of 1958.

Commissioner Charles I. Schottland said many of the new offices will be in agricultural areas to provide service to the farming population only recently covered by the social security law. Others are to be located in industrial areas which have experienced heavy increases in population.

The 558 district offices now in operation answer questions on social security matters, assist eligible persons in filing claims for benefits and issue social security numbers.

One of the new offices will be at Oneonta, N. Y.

Ave Names Group To Construct War Memorial Shrine

ALBANY (P) — A new state authority was in harness today ready to start toward construction of a state world war memorial building.

Gov. Harriman yesterday announced appointments to the 10-member world war memorial authority and repeated his wish that the building be financed from contributions, not tax revenue.

The 1957 Legislature created the authority to develop plans for a memorial building and select a site.

When he approved the legislation last spring, Harriman said he thought the building should be situated in Albany.

Members of the authority serve without salary but are reimbursed for expenses. Harriman will designate specific terms for the various appointees when he sends their names to the state Senate in January. They may take office meanwhile. Most are former top officers of veterans' groups.

Senator Sees Higher Car Insurance Costs

NEW YORK (P) — A state senator has warned that higher costs of repairing autos and large jury damage awards may mean higher insurance rates for car owners.

Sen. Elisha T. Barrett, Suffolk County Republican, told the opening session of the regional conference of the northeastern states on highway safety yesterday that New York State juries are "running hog wild" in awarding damages for auto accidents.

The conference continued today.

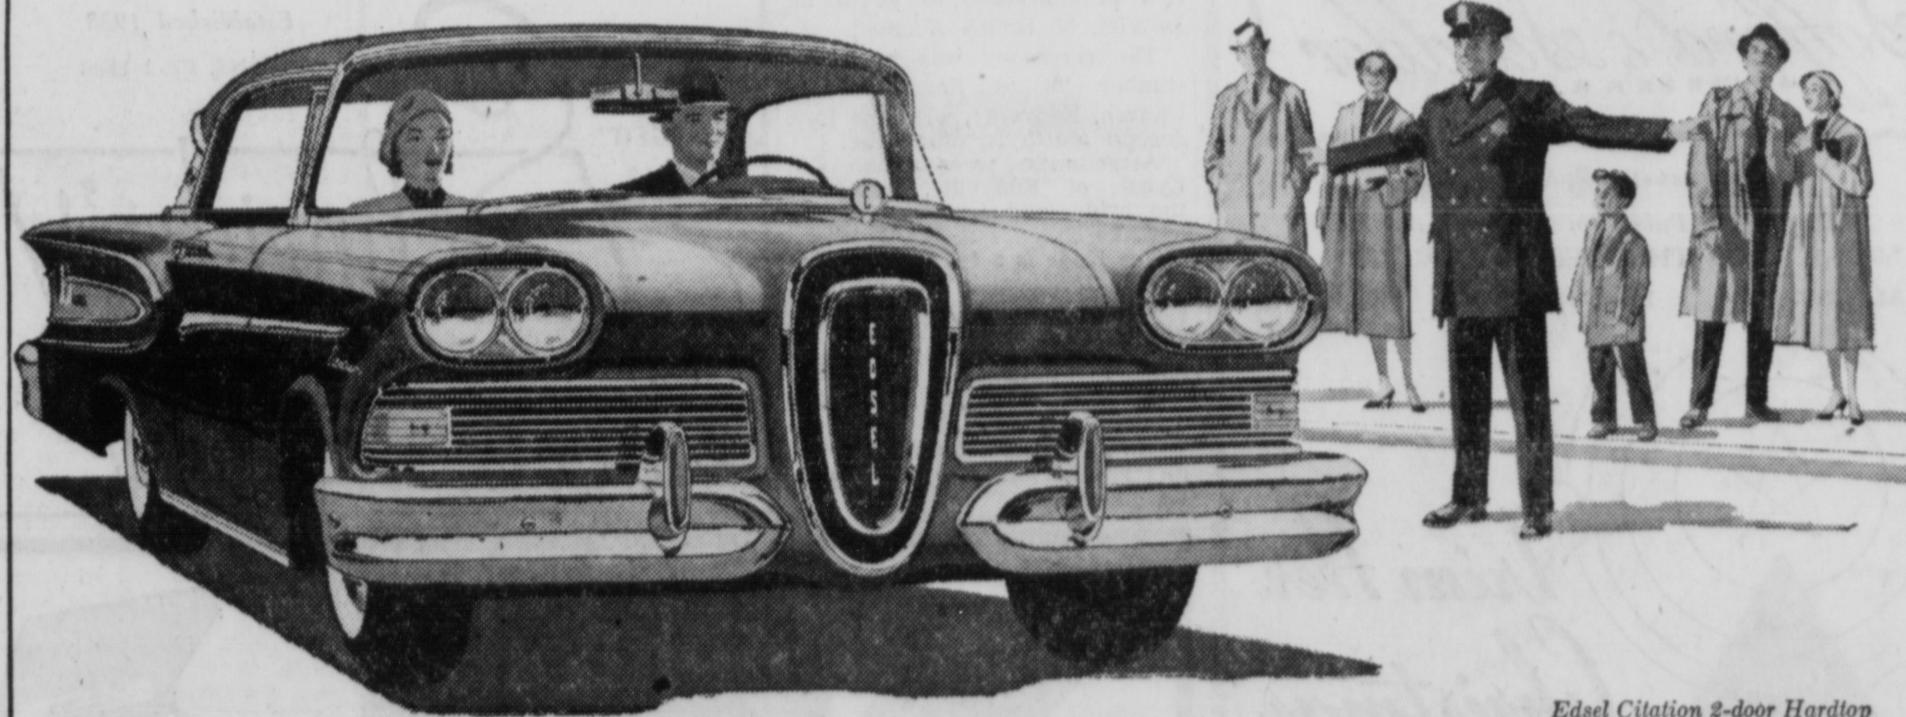

Barrett, chairman of the state's joint legislative committee on interstate cooperation, said that because of higher damage awards and rising labor costs, some insurance companies are "pulling out entirely of the auto accident liability insurance business."

Republican Women Plan for Lincoln Day Dinner Here

A Lincoln Day Dinner is being planned by the Ulster County Women's Republican Club for February 12, 1958 at the Governor Clinton.

Mrs. Robert Rognon has been named as chairman of the event.

The dinner will be an event of both the Republican County Central Committee and the Ulster County Women's Republican Club.

At a recent dinner-meeting of the group, Mrs. Marshall Winchell, president of the YWCA Golden Age Club, whose members were guests at the dinner, gave an interesting address.

Mrs. William DuBois led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Hostesses for the meeting were the Mmes. Robert Pardoe and Christine Dutton.

The next meeting of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club will be held on January 9.

Troop 63 and 71

Brownie Troop 63 and Girl Scout Troop 71 of St. Mary's entertained 104 girls from the Sacred Heart Orphanage at a Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 14, at St. Mary's School, 141 p. m. in the Shokan Reformed Church.

Officiating clergymen were the Rev. Osterhoudt Phillips of the Shokan Reformed Church, and the Rev. Roy Adelberg of the Stone Ridge Reformed Church. It was a double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Sickler was at the organ.

Evergreens, red berries and poinsettias decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Williard Allen of Woodstock.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white velvet gown in ballerina length, styled in princess lines, boat neckline and bouffant skirt. A halo veil was caught to a cap of white flowers. The bride carried white poinsettias.

Mrs. Charles Ryson of Jersey City, N. J. was the matron of honor. She wore an emerald green velvet ballerina length gown in princess lines. Her nylon braid cap held a halo veil of matching color. She carried red poinsettias.

Elson Oakley Jr., of Woodstock was the best man. Serving as ushers were Earl Christiana, brother-in-law of the bride, and William Wilkins, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Pheasant Inn, Shokan, for approximately 85 guests.

The bride was graduated from Ellenville High School and Wanamaker School of Cosmetology. She is employed by Pierre's

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST
Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette" etc.

"YOU LOOK LIKE . . ."

Dear Mrs. Post: I wish older people who haven't seen me for awhile would stop saying, "My but you look exactly like your mother"—or sometimes they will think I look just like my father. It's not that I mind looking like my parents, because I think they are very good looking. But when people say this to me I never know what to answer. I don't believe they mean it anyway, because I can't look exactly like both parents, can I?

Answer: No, but you can (and evidently do) resemble both parents. And people who know one of the other better quite understandably, I think, see you like this to one parent. Of one thing you can be sure: No one means this unkindly, and you must certainly be polite enough at least to smile in appreciation, because, as you said yourself, it is a compliment. You might find it less awkward than standing in silence, to say, "Many people think so . . ." or "I'm glad you think so."

Secretary's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a secretary and had to write a letter about business to my employer while he and his family were on vacation. I signed it "Jane." I've been told that my signature was too familiar and I'd like to know what you think about this.

Answer: If Jane is the name by which he always calls you, it would be quite all right at the end of a letter. But if he calls you Miss Jones, then you should sign your name Jane Jones.

Where Does He Sit?

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband has been asked to give his niece in marriage (her father is dead). After he gives her away, where does he sit—in the front pew beside the bride's mother, or next to me?

Answer: Usually he sits next to the bride's mother, but this is not a definite rule.

Should the wife sit in the front seat of the car when friends are invited for a ride? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

B'nai B'rith Women Hold Dinner-Meeting

The B'nai B'rith Women held a dinner-meeting at Hotel Kingston Thursday, Dec. 5. It was attended by more than 100 members and guests.

Mrs. Harry Speigel, president, presided at a short business meeting. Discussed at that time was the commencing of the B'nai B'rith calendar fund drive. Workers were requested and a score of volunteers responded. There is an urgent need for more workers to carry out a successful calendar drive.

The chairmanship for the annual drive is held by the Mmes. Merrill Stone and Arnold Pinsly, with the Mmes. Aaron Adin and William Zwick as co-chairmen. This project has a January 10 deadline.

A report was given on the pyramid month card parties. It was decided that this project be continued to further the B'nai B'rith Women's scholarship fund. Mrs. Merrill Stone will make plans for a benefit card party.

Yule Plans

Plans were also completed at this meeting for the Christmas parties with which B'nai B'rith women are connected. Refreshments will be prepared and served by B'nai B'rith women at the TB Hospital Sunday, Dec. 22. Entertainment will be furnished for the party by volunteers of the chapter.

Gifts will be donated and presented to each patient at the local Infirmary on Christmas Day by B'nai B'rith women. A program of entertainment has been planned by Mrs. Harold Shorr, coordinator for this annual event.

It was reported that a drive for Muscular Dystrophy started Dec. 15. Mrs. Hyman Greenspan is in charge of this drive for B'nai B'rith. Volunteer collectors are asked to call Mrs. Greenspan for further details.

Hear Guest Speaker

Upon completion of the business meeting, Mrs. Harry Speigel turned the program over to Mrs. Harold Shorr, chairman of programming. Mrs. Shorr welcomed and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Henry Cohen, president of B'nai B'rith Women's District One.

Mrs. Cohen, well-known in the field of education and for her work with children, discussed B'nai B'rith's most important function—it's youth program. She cited the National Fund Raising Council and its efforts to acquire greater funds to build its program for the training of youth for our nation's future. She spoke of the urgency of guidance and advice for youngsters and their parents from professional and business groups in order to build economic and emotional security in future careers.

Mrs. Cohen then described to the assemblage the new B'nai B'rith National Headquarters Building in Washington, D. C. It is called the Monsky Memorial Building, in honor of Henry Monsky, who formulated the idea of a B'nai B'rith Foundation. The building also includes a library which is dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Cohen explained that this building represents the true meaning of B'nai B'rith. Philanthropy, emergency relief and support of all worthy causes in public and Jewish life.

Mrs. Cohen concluded her timely talk with the thought that educating our youth should be topmost in our efforts and activities, and with the urgent plea that women take pride and believe in B'nai B'rith.

Mrs. Cohen's speech was then followed by the presentation of Membership pins by Mrs. Albert Feldman, to all new members of the Kingston Chapter of B'nai B'rith. The pins are in the form of a menorah; the symbol of B'nai B'rith.

The evening's program was concluded with an original musical skit, entitled "Our Fair Ladies," written by Mrs. Arnold Pinsly. The playlet depicted the various facets of B'nai B'rith activities. Those who helped in the production were the Mmes. Henry Singer, Norman Reamer, Arnold Pinsly, Harry Speigel, Bruce Wally, Seymour Werbalowsky, Harold Shorr, Cecil Munkoff, Stanley Caple, Harvey Semilof and Leonard Bard.

Rider-Smith Wedding
Is Held at Accord Church

Miss Elsie Elizabeth Rider of Accord, and Abram D. Smith of Kerhonkson, were united in marriage December 4 at 7 p. m. in the Rochester Reformed Church parsonage at Accord.

The Rev. George D. Wood, pastor, officiated.

Attendants included Mr. and Mrs. George H. Green Sr., of Kerhonkson.

Mrs. Smith has been connected with the town clerk's office in the Town of Rochester since 1946 when she was appointed deputy town clerk and served four years. She was then elected to the office of town clerk and is now completing eight years of service in that office. In November, she was re-elected for two-year term in 1958-59.

Mr. Smith was elected to a two-year term as justice of the peace, Town of Rochester, beginning in January, 1952. He was re-elected to a four-year term ending December 1957. In November, Mr. Smith was re-elected to another four-year term. For the past 27 years, Mr. Smith has also conducted a sporting goods store in Rochester.

A reception was given for the couple at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hummel of Sleightsburg.

Sisterhood Plans Party for New Year

An announcement was made by co-chairmen, the Mmes.

Larry Jacobs, Ephraim Propp, and Sidney Samuels, that Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel will hold a New Year's Eve party in the vestry hall on Spring and Wurts Streets.

Since the seating capacity of the hall is limited, reservations should be made early. Music will be provided by Myron Rossi and his band.

Mrs. Larry Jacobs and Mrs. Harry Brines will be in charge of reservations.

Washington Distaff Reporters Attend White House Tea; Greeted by First Lady

WASHINGTON — What's it like to go to tea at the White House?

Some 400 members of Washington newspaper women's club can tell you. They were entertained yesterday by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It starts with an engraved invitation in a white envelope. There's no mistaking the sender. The envelope bears gold letters spelling "The White House."

"Mrs. Eisenhower will be glad to receive..."

And those who receive that summons rarely turn it down, if they can help it.

The newspaper women were no organ.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Wallevik was graduated from Kingston High School, class of 1956 and is now employed as a secretary by IBM in Kingston. Her husband is a seaman aboard the Empress Bay.

The couple plan to make their home in The Vly when they return from their wedding trip to New York City.

Roy Ransom served as attendant and usher.

Mrs. Roy Ransom was at the organ.

As the time was 4 p. m. Teas at the White House start promptly. It's not protocol to show up "so-cially" late.

White House aides in military uniform lead the guests to the East ballroom, with its famous hanging chandeliers. Here they wait in lines to be received by the First Lady.

They move slowly through the Green room, the Blue room, glimpsing Christmas decorations poinsettias, holly, pine and gay colored Christmas tree balls—in the state parlors of the President's home.

Mrs. Eisenhower stands in the last parlor—the Red room—to greet her guests, wearing a Christmas red brocade dress, flecked with gold, and shoes to match—with the same gold flecks.

Beside her is an aide, to whom each guest whispers her name.

The aide makes the formal introduction to the First Lady.

Without gloves, Mrs. Eisenhower gaily extends a hand to each guest. She holds on for a second—has a word for each one—as the line moves slowly on. Some guests pause to ask a question. The First Lady has a ready answer.

She feels fine after her August operation. Sorry she didn't go to Paris with the President.

This is the first time she's wearing the dress—please note how the shoes match. The idea of designer

Nette Rosenstein.

Miss Bertha Adkins, director of the women's division of the Republican National Committee

miss word that the President

DAIRYLEA® Egg Nog

"sounded wonderful" in his radio speech from N.A.T.O.

"I didn't hear him... nobody told me," Mrs. Eisenhower says.

The line moves on—it takes more than a half hour before every hand has had its shake.

As they leave the Red room, the guests enter the state dining room which is set for tea. A huge table stretches across one end of the room, loaded with cakes, candies and sandwiches. Silver services for coffee and tea are at each end. Red carnations, holly and evergreens decorate the table center and four tall red candles are lit off. A flowing punchbowl is nearby.

As the guests taste the goodies,

Mrs. Eisenhower joins the throng.

By 5 p. m.—after just one hour

—the party is over and the guests depart from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

YMCA Auxiliary Meets

Ladies Auxiliary of the

Kingston YMCA held its annual Christmas party and business meeting in the "Y" lobby on Friday, Dec. 13, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs.

George DuBois, president presided.

Those ladies who have served with the group for many years were commended by the president. They included Mrs. William Kingman, a member for 58 years; Mrs. Rufus Kelder and Mrs. Bessie Tuttle, members for 50 years. The president, Mrs.

DuBois, has been a member of the group for the past 45 years.

Following devotions, singing of hymns and Christmas carols,

there was an exchange of gifts.

Refreshments were also served.

Members attending were Miss

Mary Treadwell, the Mmes. Esther Wonderly, Elizabeth Edmondson, Rufus Kelder, Bessie

Tuttle, Floyd Howard, Catherine Coutant, William Jackson and William Kingman.

Sunday Baseball TV Plans Set Despite Protests of Minors

NEW YORK (AP)—The decision of the Columbia Broadcasting System to telecast a Sunday major league Game-of-the-Week next season brought bitter comment today from baseball officials.

Said Commissioner Ford Frick: "It's a bad thing for baseball and I'm sorry some of our clubs are going in for it."

"I'm hoping that Congress will provide legislation that will take us out of the hands of the Justice Department and give us the right to regulate such telecasts."

Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy, 74-year-old chairman of the minor leagues' committee to block the telecasts, blasted CBS' plan to black out areas where minor league teams are playing home games as "just a cover."

Questions Scope

"They know as well as we do that the blackout can cover only a certain area," he said.

He also maintained that the network has disregarded a congressional order in making its plans. Shaughnessy said CBS had been "warned" by a House Committee on Monopolies not to proceed with its plans until hearings on the matter are completed.

CBS, for its part, would admit only that it is "still in the procedure of negotiating" for the games, but The Associated Press learned that the plans had been completed.

Five teams—Cleveland, Chicago and New York of the American League and Philadelphia and Cincinnati of the National League—are expected to be involved in the Sunday telecasts.

Bill Hartack Wanted To Play Football

TWIN ROCKS, Pa. (AP)—Principal Elmer E. Smith of the Black Lick Township High School here says he has little difficulty following the career of the school's most famous graduate—25-year-old jockey Bill Hartack.

"Students often come up to me and tell me how Billy is making out," says Professor Smith. "He was a loveable boy in his four years here. He wanted to play football but was too small so we put him on our sports program. He went all over with the football team and was timekeeper for our basketball team. If we had had a swimming team, Billy would have been the star. He was that good a swimmer."

Hartack weighed 102 pounds when he was graduated in 1950. He now weighs 107 pounds.

The town of Black Lick, Pa., is almost 30 miles from here and Prof. Smith says even though it is in a different county (Indiana County) the town gets credit for Hartack. Hartack actually was born in Colver, Pa. (Cambria County) and went to high school here when he lived in Balsamo, Pa., almost four miles from the school.

BOWLING SCORES

Haughton No. 1 Driver

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—Perennial winner William R. Haughton did it again this year, the U. S. Trotting Assn. (USTA) said in announcing harness racing's leading money and race-winning drivers of 1957.

Haughton, a 34-year-old driver from Brookville, N. Y., won the dollar crown for the fifth straight time with $586,950 and the race-winning title for the sixth consecutive year with 156 victories.

Haughton's 1957 earnings surpassed last year's figure, but fell short of the all-time high of $599,000 he registered in 1955. Haughton also posted the modern race winning record of 168 in 1955.

Runnerup to Haughton in the money division was Johnny Simpson of Maitland, Fla., whose Hambletonian victory with Hickory Smoke and Little Brown Jug triumph with Torpid, earned him $483,164.

Close behind Haughton among race winners was William (Buddy) Gilmour of Ridgeway, Ont., with 152 victories.

Turners Return To Golf Action

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Waco and Opie Turner are back in the golfing business after a lay-off of three years.

The multi-millionaire golf-loving husband and wife team will sponsor a $7,500 tournament in 1958 under auspices of the Ladies Professional Golfers Assn., on a new 18 hole course at their sprawling 600-acre Sports Playground in southern Oklahoma.

It will be 54-hole medal play tournament over the Labor Day weekend Aug. 30-Sept. 1.

The Turners made golfing headlines by sponsoring the Ardmore Open at Dornick Hills Country Club from 1952-54, offering more than $100,000 in prize money to the three tournaments.

The Turners cancelled the tournament in 1955 to devote their time to building the new court in the rolling terrain just north of the Red River.

The new Turner domain is a two-million dollar eye-filling extravaganza, which features a huge lodge, a half-dozen individual ranch type homes, five big lakes with abundant fishing and acres of brush land for hunting. It also has a landing strip for air-minded tourists.

SMU Upsets Kentucky; Wichita Topples Iowa

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's getting so North Carolina can knock off challengers even when the Tar Heels, topped ranked again in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll, aren't playing.

That's as good an explanation as any for Kentucky's 65-64 upset by Southern Methodist last night. Chances are the Wildcats, rated No. 5, were looking ahead to their weekend tournament and a chance for a crack at North Carolina's 36-game winning string.

First thing they knew, SMU was out front and stayed there until early in the second half when Kentucky took over at 49-46. The Mustangs had the scent by then, however, and tied it 53-53 with lanky Rick Herrscher, high point man with 22, and Max Williams doing the scoring.

Warriors, Celts Win Boys' Club Sr. Cage Openers

The Boys' Club Senior basketball league opened with the Celts nipping the Rams, 39-38, and Warriors trimming the Eagles, 34-26.

Also debuting was the Junior League. The Ramblers won over the Blue Jays, 27-8, and Cedar Aces topped the Globetrotters, 30-12.

Roy Havens, with 15 points, paced the Celts who won on the strength of a 14-12 last period. Frank Fay manufactured 11, and Melvin Baker 10.

William Metcalf topped the Rams with 12.

Pete Keizer's 14 points led the Warriors. Charles Manfre hit 7 for the Eagles.

The Ramblers won behind John Whalen's 18 points.

Ken Baker produced 14 and Pete Thomas 10 to show the way for the Cedar Aces.

Bowl Games Close

DALAS, Tex. (AP)—Keen competition is a hallmark of the 21-year history of the Cotton Bowl football classic. In 21 games before the 1958 clash the average scores for the host team versus the visiting team is 15.3 points to 13.8, a difference of less than two points per game.

FALLSBURG HIGH SCHOOL

8 P. M. Warm up at 7:45 P. M.

Sponsored by the Kingston Savings Bank

Steady at Finish

SMU went ahead to stay with a little less than 4½ minutes left. It was the second defeat in six starts for the Wildcats, who are paired against West Virginia, while North Carolina plays Minnesota, in Friday's first round of the Kentucky Invitational.

It was the second straight for SMU at home. They now are 3-3, with all the defeats on the road.

Rice, picked as a likely successor to SMU as the Southwest Conference champ, played its first game away from home last night and took its first defeat, 67-62 at Wichita. About the only other surprise was Wichita's 81-78 decision over Iowa.

Kansas State, ranked No. 3, whipped Arkansas 63-48, San-Francisco defeated Southern California 70-56, and Illinois smacked

Colorado 64-46.

MAYORS CONFER WITH GOVERNOR—
Mayor-elect Edwin F. Radel (arrow) of this city was one of 24 Democrats conferring with Governor Averell Harriman at Albany Monday relative to their plans as city mayors when they start the new year, some as re-elected officials and others as new leaders of their communities. Radel, who has served eight years as alderman of the Third ward talked to the governor about Boy Scout Troop 4, Fair Street Reformed Church, calling on him with a petition to save Perrine's Bridge at Rifton, and about road construction in the area. When Radel stressed importance of eliminating the hazardous Washington Avenue viaduct the governor told him he was aware of the situation and was awaiting a letter from the State Department of Public Works on the matter. Remarking that 52 cities of the state will have 30 Democratic mayors after January 1, Governor Harriman said, "I am confident you will respond to this vote of confidence by doing an effective job in the administration of your cities."

Industrial Output
Last Month Dipped
To Mid-1955 Levels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board says the nation's industrial production declined in November to the level of mid-1955, and that unemployment increased during the month.

In a monthly report issued yesterday, the board said the industrial production index last month dropped to 139 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

That was a decline of 2 per cent compared with the preceding month and put the index at its lowest point since June and July of 1955, except for July 1956 when it hit 136 in the wake of a nationwide steel strike.

The index had been edging downward irregularly after hitting a record peak of 147 in November 1956. It reflects actual physical output of mills, mines and factories, and does not take into consideration such factors as price changes.

The board said reductions in employment were widespread and unemployment increased during the month.

The report said construction activity remained at record levels. It showed that private housing starts last month stayed at a

Schoonmaker Is
New Master of
Masonic Lodge 343

Donald H. Schoonmaker Jr. was elected master of Rondout Lodge 343, Free and Accepted Masons at its 103rd annual communication in the Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, Monday night.

Other officers elected were:

Robert B. Murray, senior warden; Alex Woolf, junior warden; James E. Norton, treasurer; Fred L. VanDeusen, secretary; The Rev. Herbert Killinder, chaplain; Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport, assistant chaplain; Leon B. Hobbs, senior deacon; Harry A. Flowers Jr., junior deacon; William E. Radcliffe, senior master of ceremony; Stuart C. Smeds, junior master of ceremony; Robert B. Greene, marshal; W. William Smith, organist; Edward M. Dvivis, tiler.

William E. Dederick was re-elected lodge trustee for three years and Richard W. Heffernan was re-elected trustee of the Masonic Temple for three years.

1957 Prosperous Year

The annual reports were read and showed that the lodge had enjoyed a prosperous year in 1957.

The newly elected officers were installed by Right Worshipful Frank J. Strobel, district deputy grand master of the Greene-Ulster District.

Paul Jones, past master of Rondout Lodge, acted as marshal and also had charge of the election.

Richard W. Heffernan, past master of Rondout Lodge and past district deputy of the Greene-Ulster District, acted as chaplain.

Fred W. Wolven and George E. Radcliffe, past masters of the lodge also assisted acting as junior deacon and tiler.

The tellers were Edwin L. Wetterhahn and Charles Neebe.

Evans Receives Gift

William A. Evans, retiring master, was presented with a set of luggage on behalf of the lodge by Donald H. Schoonmaker Jr.

If it does, Hughes added, the association believes the two-year housing slump has hit its low point. Hughes headed a group of about 25 builders who suggested several government changes including lower FHA down payments, and establishment of a new program of low down payment, long mortgage housing to replace the GI housing program.

Little Price Change

The Federal Reserve report on business also said wholesale commodity prices changed little from mid-November to mid-December.

It said business loans continued to decline although total bank credit expanded, and security yields declined sharply although demands for long term funds remained strong.

The board said retail sales changed little during November on a seasonally adjusted basis. Sales dropped some at durable goods stores but showed some recovery at department stores, the report said.

He will then be transferred to New London, Conn., for a six weeks course at Basic Submarine School.

Burke is a graduate of Kings ton High School, class of 1957.

Central Would Drop
Three State Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Central Railroad wants to discontinue passenger service between Indianapolis and St. Louis and between Cincinnati and Toledo.

The railroad said yesterday petitions were filed asking that it be allowed to drop the runs with public utility commissions in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Ernest W. Nickerson, vice president of the railroad, said the road will have sustained a loss of approximately $1,289,978 in 1957 on the passenger service between the cities. He said the loss in 1956 was $402,975.

New York Central operates four trains daily in each direction between Indianapolis and St. Louis and one train a day in each direction between Cincinnati and Toledo.
